Dimmable on touch-sensitive switch

Nobu is a new interpretation of the classic architect's lamp, combining industrial expression with classic form. Nobu has an integrated LED that helps provide high light output. What's more, the integrated touch function on the lamp head is easy to use and convenient for turning the light on and off. What's more, Nobu has a flexible arm and lamp head so you can aim the light in the direction you want. The lamp is supplied with a table base, clamp and wall bracket, so you can use it in many different ways. Nobu works particularly well on a desk, but can also be used as a bedside lamp, next to a sofa or on a wall in the kitchen. Design by Bønnelycke mdd.
